JULIAN UNION HIGH SCHOOL
JULIAN, CALIFORNIA

Mr. Kellogg, Yearbook Advisor, is pondering semester grades.

In any democracy the various commissions and bureaus are the units that do the jobs assigned by the executive and administrative. A yearbook staff might be likened to a bureau. Within the staff the various assignments are spelled out and each staff member has occasional opportunities to voice opinion as to objective. The staff of the '61 Eagle has in all ways effectively demonstrated another phase of democracy and it has been a privilege to work with them toward that goal.

JOURNALISTS' UNITY EXEMPLIFIES DEMOCRACY

"Where did you put that negative?" . . . "Get that copy in . . ." These are only a couple of the familiarities spoken in Journalism. This class being unified as it is, is working together to achieve a certain standard of satisfaction. The yearbook staff has worked this year to compose the 1961 Eagle. We hope this yearbook will remain in your memory to fulfill a wonderful past, present, and future.

Marilyn Druliner, Yearbook Editor.

DEDICATION: TO OUR COUNTRY

It is to our country that we dedicate this annual. The United States is the first experiment in democracy on a large scale. Due to the writers of the Declaration of Independence and the founders of the Constitution--our own forefathers--we are able to live as individuals who can believe as we wish.

Who is responsible for our continuing democracy? People such as Mr. Rikansrud, to whom we further dedicate this book. With his help we, as students, learn about our government and the part we are to play in it.

Now being a time of crisis concerning the world affairs which threaten our way of life, we stand firm for our democracy and respect the efforts of our teachers who are trying to prepare us to take part in this great governmental system.

Mr. Rikansrud teaches fundamentals of democracy.

The United States flag . . . a tribute to our country.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Clement instructs students in the art of public speaking.

Miss Cox creates a masterpiece.

Mr. Kellogg shows students the places which are making history.

INFORMED FACULTY MEETS

An informed citizenry is an important factor in a democratic system of government. Due to the help of our teachers, we are able to take an active part in our society. They are always ready and willing to help us with our school activities and our school work. Many times we doubt their efforts and they, in turn, wonder about us but in later years we will thank them for their efforts.

Miss Morton helps students prepare for future vocations.

Mrs. Patton unfolds the wonderful world of Spanish to her students.

Civics is one of Mr. Rikansrud's many subjects.

Mrs. Roberts enjoys sewing as much as she enjoys her Home Ec. Class.

CHALLENGES OF SOCIETY

Coach Robertson experiments with his new discovery

Mr. Wallenberg ponders the intricacies of a slide rule.

Mr. Thompson surveys for a new fence line.

Mrs. Zemmer's happy face expresses her fondness for teaching music.

LOCAL LEGISLATORS

Reverend Blum shows trickery with a rope to his Boy Scout troop.

Mr. Whitlock, one of the veteran board members, is enjoying one of his leisure moments.

Mr. Fortner, the Borrego member, admires his lovely flower garden.

Mr. Macfarlane, a contract estimator, pours over building plans and contracts.

The people of the business world help manage the economy of our country. It is to the Board of Trustees that we owe our gratitude for their part in keeping Julian High's business in order. The Board, which could be called our legislative body, is charged with the duties of selecting our faculty members, deciding on improvements for the school, and planning school expenditures. They are the ones who administer our privilege of receiving a public education

Mr. Cauza enjoys his life on a ranch.

DISPLAY PATRIOTISM

Mr. Redding, Principal of Julian Union High School.

Mr. Redding's desk is always crowded with many papers and pamphlets which mean quite a job ahead.

Many people don't realize that Mr. Redding's job as Principal of Julian High is comparable--on a much smaller scale, to be true--to that of the Chief Executive of our country. Mr. Redding, who is also the Superintendent of the District, has a great responsibility in seeing that the affairs of JUHS are efficiently administered.

Mr. Redding enjoys one of his rare moments of peace.

JULIAN UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT

Mr. Blanc, Mr. Woodard, Mr. Dodge, Mr. Taylor, and Mr. Payton drive a great distance to bring us to school

THEIR SERVICES CONTRIBUTE SAFETY AND BEAUTY

Bus Drivers play a very important part in our educational system because they make possible both our education and friendship with other students. They spend a great deal of time on the road bringing students from such distant places as Oak Grove and Berrego, and are responsible for each person's life.

We can very easily be proud of our lovely Julian High Campus. The clean mown grass, neat buildings, and growing plants and trees are representative of the well kept grounds. We should be proud that we have such a good and interested maintenance crew.

Mr. Taylor, Mr. Kahley, and Mr. Winterton busy at work trying to keep our buildings clean and our campus green and lovely.

NURSE, STORE CLERKS SERVE THE STUDENTS

Mrs. Poor weighs Liz Walter as part of her day-to-day work.

Mrs. Poor, nurse of Julian Union High School area.

The health of the people of our country is always a matter of concern. Mrs. Poor, our nurse, has the great responsibility of seeing that we students are in good health. We greatly appreciate her presence and services at JUIS.

Our school store is the model of a small business. The students who work in the store sell many supplies such as paper, pencils, and notebooks. We are very fortunate to have the privilege of a store and thus to take a small part in the economy of our democracy.

Mike Macfarlane and Tim Williamson hard at work trying to figure out profits of the A.S.B. Store.

Carolyn Carr and Sharla Stanley getting acquainted with their jobs as cashiers.

Mrs. Ocker, assisted by Diana Craun, Cindy Staggs, Ann Hickey, and Betty Long, keeps the office work in order.

Mrs. Ocker and her assistants, who fill the offices of Secretariat, take care of the files and all forms of correspondence.

The Treasurer, Mr. Payton, and his helpers, take charge of the funds, transportation, and insurance of the school organizations.

SECRETARIES AND TREASURERS ARE VITAL TO DAILY NEEDS

Mr. Payton and Joyce Jordan confer over the expenses of the student organizations.

RECORDS AND REELS SPIN FOR EDUCATION

Technicians Mike Macfarlane, Tom Davis, Henry Hughey, Mark Nichols, and George Stanley have to pass tests proposed by Mr. Thompson before they can undertake their jobs.

Mr. Thompson trains technicians and projectionists

Newsreels, ASB movies, educational films--all are presented to us here at school. Our projectionists are important because they make possible our viewing of such films. Whether the event is Amateur Hour or the Christmas Program, technicians are involved in some way for lighting and shadowing. Due recognition is given this fine staff which is under the supervision of Mr. Thompson

Mrs. Norman, along with Mrs. Rikanstad and Mrs. Mott, prepares delicious food for our consumption.

WE OWE OUR THANKS TO CAFETERIA STAFF

We very rarely stop to think about the kind and amount of food we eat, but at lunch time most of us are usually very hungry. We are fortunate that it is possible for us to go straight to the cafeteria for a good hot lunch. Due to Mrs. Norman and her efficient staff our lunches are tasty and well prepared at a comparatively low price.

Kathy Angel as cashier spends quite a bit of time in keeping track of cafeteria accounts.

Bob Paroli and Troy Weese work hard at their job of washing dishes and pans.

Dorothy Blacktooth, Carolyn Barling, Sue Vogt, Beatrice Paipa, Debbie Pinckney, and Julie Wanket enjoy a great national pastime, reading.

LIBRARIANS ADVANCE OUR EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

Miss Morton, head Librarian of Julian Union High, catches up on some reading.

Reading is a method of learning. In our society everyone should learn to read in order to determine a personal opinion on current problems. Libraries provide us with a vast variety of reading material from Greek Mythology to Einstein's Theory. Our own school library has a wide range of excellent reading matter. Every student should take advantage of that which is due him.

Gary Wilson--Associated Student Body Vice President.

A. S. B. OFFICERS TAKE THEIR JOBS SERIOUSLY

David Porter--Associated Student Body President.

Dody Green--Associated Student Body Secretary.

Melanie Skagen--Associated Student Body Treasurer.

Our government being a democracy means that we are able to take part in the running of our country.

As students we learn how to take part in the affairs of our nation by being members of the Associated Student Body. Our A.S.B. officers are learning leadership and responsibility while we are learning how to think and make decisions.

Right now is the time we should realize the opportunity which has been given us and we should make use of it by using our good judgment in decisions in order that we can become an asset to our country.

Joyce Jordan--Central Trasurer.

Mike Macfarlane--Store Manager.

STUDENTS EXPERIMENT IN SELF-GOVERNMENT

The Vice-President of the ASB can always be found guiding the deliberations of the Executive Committee. Shown standing here is Gary Wilson, while seated from left around the table are K. Beattie, D. Pinckney, R. Rikansrud, Secretary D. Green, G. Stanley, B. Long, H. Hughey, and Lawrence Cleland.

Much of the pattern of our activities is planned by us, the students of JCHS. The Executive Committee is a representative group of people chosen from each class. These classmates make the laws and provide us with a constitution in which our student activities are based. It is, then, our duty as students of Julian High to uphold our Executive Committee in all matters of government.

Traditional chore of the ASB prexy is presiding over general student body meetings. Here Dave Porter keeps order during a "hot" session, while other officers Wilson, Skagen and Green thoughtfully frame their replies.

Once a month the faculty meets to discuss mutual problems and make plans

Mrs. Patton, as A.S.B. Advisor, is the staunch defender of students' rights.

Mr. Redding practices a stern expression for use on culprits only, but Diana and Judy aren't a bit frightened.

Here some of the faculty try to hear what's going on "up front" during A.S.B. meeting.

Coach Robertson drills his faculty team in all sorts of vile tactics to employ in their game against the varsity.

The Junior year is one of the most important in a person's high school career. It is a turning point as far as a person's education is concerned. It is possible to look back on two years of fun and excitement and look forward to being a senior with all the usual privileges belonging to a member of that class.

This is a year which requires a great deal of work. The Juniors are responsible for the student council and the Junior-Senior Council and they take this responsibility and profit by it. Truly, it is a wonderful and important year.

PEP LEADER'S GOAL

Shirley

The main job of a cheerleader is to increase student participation in cheering the teams to victory. Their motto is "Pep" and they live up to this quite well. We are grateful to Chris Drulmer, Susan Huntamer, Susan Carr, and Shirley Slaughter for their contribution to JUHS sports.

Girls in 4th period P. E. learn how to become great basketball stars.

GIRLS SHOW MUCH COMPETITIVE SPIRIT

Fifth period girls start off with some exercises.

Exercise is good for people of all ages, not only for retaining good health but for clearing the mind. Schools serve this purpose through Physical Education classes. Under the counsel of Miss Cox, the girls relax from studies and enjoy various sports

SNOWBALL IS G. A. L. (A) EVENT

Miss Cox, GAL Advisor

The Girls' Associated League is an organization which enables all Julian High girls to have fun together while they work on various projects. The most notable of the aforesaid is the Winter Prom. This takes a great deal of effort from which the girls derive the opportunity to plan and work together.

GAL advisory board holds an informal meeting.

President Winterborn, Vice president Rice, Secretary Macfarlane and Treasurer Stanley hold a quick informal meeting.

ATHLETIC STATURE NECESSARY FOR B. A. C.

It is a common saying that the only way to get ahead is to get ahead. It is a fact that the only way to get ahead is to get ahead. It is a fact that the only way to get ahead is to get ahead.

The love of sports and good fellows is the only way to get ahead. It is a fact that the only way to get ahead is to get ahead. It is a fact that the only way to get ahead is to get ahead.

CULTURE STIMULATED BY LANGUAGES, ART

Rudy Hoppe takes a Napoleonic pose as he sits for the painters in 6th period art class.

Carolyn Carr and Julie Wanket complete an important Christmas card project while Norma Jurado and Rudy Sandoval keep busy on theirs.

This year witnessed the organization of a Spanish Club at JUIIS. This is an important group for many reasons the first of which is the opportunity to learn more about Spanish-speaking people through their language.

Art brings the student into the lives and expressions of many people. We are able to enjoy and study these expressions through the counsel of Miss Cox as we learn to think creatively.

TOP, Thass, Simon, Wilson, Rikansrud, Williamson, Cross, D. Winterton, Stanley. MIDDLE, Macfarlane, Epps, Olah. BOTTOM, McCurdy, Hughey, Nichols, Gibson, Mott.

"Y" GROUPS AIM

President Rudy Rikansrud talks over plans with his other officers, Simon, Macfarlane, Williamson, Stanley and Mott.

The Hi-Y has several characteristics, one of which is service to the community. With Coach Robertson as advisor, these boys learn how to work together in being of use to society.

AT COMMUNITY SERVICE

The Y clubs offer girls a chance to work together for the "common good."

In the Tri-Hi-Y, girls learn to prepare for the future through projects such as bake sales, baby sitting etc. Miss Cox, as advisor, sees that they take their part in the community.

CSF members are usually looked upon by others as "brains." This may be true sometimes but they also have a reviving interest in life which is the key to their membership in the club. They study a great deal of the time which doesn't especially classify them as "exceptionally intelligent."

Many people could belong to this organization with a little more concentration on studies. We congratulate the CSF'ers on their efforts.

C. S. F. AND F. F. A.

President Hughey, Vice President Beattie and Treasurer Carr check the activity calendar.

Here the CSF'ers leave on one of their several party trips.

GROUPS ARE HONORED

The Future Farmers of America is a group of boys learning new and improved methods concerning farming. This organization is extremely important to the economy of our nation. It not only prepares boys for a job with which they might be associated in the future, but it also prepares them for their part in our government through their monthly meetings.

Virgil McCurdy shows his beef animal to Advisor Thompson on his monthly visit.

EAGLE AND EAGLETTE STAFFS WORK

Photogs Turvey, Weese, Porter and Paroli discuss picture problems.

Your yearbook is a personal record of the memories chalked up through your high school years. The members of the annual staff have spent a great deal of time and effort in recreating a school year of memories. Now again, you live through sad moments, happy moments; moments of victory and defeat, courage and weakness.

TO MEET THOSE FREQUENT DEADLINES

Eagle Editor R. Turnbull discusses staff problems with Advisor Kellogg, Sports editor Thaiss and Assistant editor Pinckney.

Circulation Mgr. Liz Walter personally sees that everyone gets a paper.

Many people who are now famous writers started their careers in the field of journalism.

This field usually has quite an attraction for local students.

Journalism gives the student not only knowledge of newspaper work, but also teaches them leadership, cooperation, punctuality and many other good qualities.

This is evidenced by the number of second-year students.

TOP, J. Wanket, Green, C. Stagg, Baker, Skagen, D. Marey, Craun. MIDDLE, Mrs. Zemmer, Hockley, Wallace, D. Turnham, Williams, B. Long, C. Wanket, Wray, B. Stagg, Dries. BOTTOM, Fajala, McDaniel, C. Long, Linton, E. Walter, Mathews, J. Weese.

GLEE CLUBS AFFORD FUN AND RELAXATION

A part of being a student here has been able to express their feelings through song. In Glee Clubs we are able to express the sentiments of people of other nations and of our nation and also of our own. It is a great joy to sing. It is an important period for us more than the above said reason. We are able to relax and enjoy the company of our fellow students.

TOP, Parker, Morales, Rice, Haney, Olah, Jameson, Clelland, K. Maxey. MIDDLE, Elmore, Thaiss, Withrow, DeMarais, Robison. BOTTOM, D. Winterton, Simon, Mrs. Zemmer, Williamson, Flohr.
